Glasgow the "Oil City" of Ke-

tucky.

[Correspondence Union Press.] GLASGOW, BARREN Co., KY., March 22, 1865.

During the past winter much excitement has existed here on the subject of petroleum, and since the pleasant weather has set in, it has been greatly increased by the arrival of a number of parties from the East, all well pleased and speak well of it. One party, a committee to purchase oil lands, accompanied by an experienced geologist, has returned home and will make a most favorable published report of this new field. This party so favorably impressed, and representing a large capital, will prove a great acquisition to the development of oil and mineral interests of this section

Messrs. Graham & Thomas, of your city, are, however, the pioneers, and have entered upon their work with great energy and zeal. For several days past heavy loads of engines, machinery, &c., have passed through our town destined for the greasy territory, and more is yet to come. They have located ten or more engines on Buck, Skeggs' and Boyd's creek. These creeks abound with the richest oil showings. At one place, Boyd's creek washes through a gravel bed from three to five feet deep, and perhaps twenty feet in length on both sides of the creek, which is thoroughly saturated with oil. Several such showings are said to exhibit on Boyd's and Skeggs' creek. This country is much broken, and from all the indications and preparations now making, Oil City had better look to her laurels av vet be her ri

Wholesomeness of Retaliation.

On the line of march, to-day, we found thirteen of our foragers murdered, seven of them lying by the side of the road, all shot in the breast, and a large placard pinned to each, on which was written in pencil: "This is the way we treat Kılpatrick's Three of the others were left in the house murdered, having been shot down after they had surrendered. Still three others wero found lying by the roadside, their throats cut from ear to ear. On these was a.so a placard on which was written: "South Carolina's greeting to Yankee Vandels."

The next morning five more were found, who had also been treacherously murdered after they had surrendered and given up

Gen. Kilpatrick immediately sent a note under a flag of truce to Gen. Wheeler, stating that, "unless by sunset of the 23d, satisfactory explanation why this thing had been done, was not received, he would se-lect from among Wheeler's prisoners in his hands eighteen, the same number of our men who had been murdered, and cause them to be executed. Further, that he would not only not restrain his inen, but would encourage them to burn everything in his line of march, that not a living, breathing thing should show where such cowardly scoundrels had lived."

This brought Gen. Wheeler to his senses. In reply to Gen. Kilpatrick he used as strong language in the denunciation of the perpetrators of the deed, as Gen. Kilpatrick hiuself had employed—denied all knowledge of the transaction, and promised to turn over to Gen. Kilpatrick the perpetrators as soon as they could be discovered. The prisoners were not hanged, and the cavalry pursued their line of march upon the left flank of the infantry until the 26th, when they went into camp at Lancaster. Here Gen. Kilpetrick and Gen. Wheeler, a la Grant and Pemberton, had a grand pow-wow under a flag of truce at the bridge crossing of Deep Creek. Gen. Kilpatrick was accompanied by a number of officers, as was also Gen. Wheeler. There were mutual introductions, the customary courtesies—everything was lovely and the goose hung high. The result was a mutual agree-ment to exchange the prisoners then on hand—a kinder treatment of each other's prisoners in future, and an Interchange of other civilities. Under which the parties shook hands and separated with expressions of the kindest personal regard for each other.—[Cor. N. Y. Tribune.

THE FREEDMEN AND MR. LINCOLN. miss Betsey Canedy, of Fall River, Mass, who is teaching a school among the colored people of Norfolk, Va., writes that she had in her school-room a life-sized head of the President. She called some colored carnters who were at work on the building and showed it to them, writing down their remarks, some of which were as follows: "He's brought us through the Red Sea."
"He looks deep as the sea himself." "He's king of the United States." "He ought to be king of all the world." "We must all pray to the Lord to carry him through, for it 'pears like he's got everything hitched to him." "There has been a right smart praying for him, and it mustn't stop now."

There are prophets still alive, for we have accidentally come across a letter printed nine years ago, in the N. Y. Tribune, written by George B. Lincoln (now postmaster of Brooklyn), then traveling in the far West, who, on Christmas day, 1855, penned these words in St. Louis:

these words in St. Louis:
"Missouri is trying by violence to make Kansas a slave State. But in what will this ruffianism end? It will end in making ouri a free State, not Kansas a slave It has ended exactly in that way.-[Inde-

PATHETIC APPEAL TO THE VIRGINIA SLAVE-

The regular election for members of the legislature will take place to-day. Quite a number of candidates are desirous of representing the dear people, but as the candidates are more numerous than the offices several patriotic individuals will doubtless be elected to stay at home, while perchance one or more of the present incumbents may be sent to the front with "muskets on their be sent to the front with "muskets on their shoulders and bayonets by their sides."
But that is a question for the dear people to decide, and we simply add—vote early. The enactment of the Negro Enlistment bill into a law is not by any means ail that can be done. The necessity that urged that law was not satisfied by its enactment, but still demands that the people shall by their action make the law successful. Unless the people will take the matter into their the people will take the matter into their own hands, and by inducements urge the negroes to volunteer, and actually give them their freedom when they are enrolled, the effects expected from the law will be defeated.

We cannot too earnestly urge this matter upon the people of Virginia, and they cannot act in the matter too fast. They cannot disguise the fact that every day the enemy is carrying off their negroes and enlisting them to fight against us. Slavery is clearly being bled by the army of the enemy, and though our people may defeat temporarily the laws of their own government, they cannot protect their negroes from the enemy. Every raid numbers by thousands its captured negroes, which are now not only defeated.

my. Every raid numbers by thousands its captured negroes, which are now not only withdrawn from production, but are enlisted soldiers in the armies of the enemy, and which might have made soldiers in our army. The law provides only for twenty-five per cent, of the slaves of the military age being taken. Will not every slaveowner seek to induce one-fourth of his egro men to enlist, and give them their eedom? If un honest and earnest effort is made by masters and inducements held out made by masters and inducements held out to negroes Gen. Lee can easily raise the re-inforcements required by his army. It re-mains with the slaveowners to make this law for negro volunteers successful. If they will they can induce their negroes to volunteer; but if they will not act—if they prefer to let the law fail and seek not to induce their negroes to volunteer—then the country will have to consider of such changes in the law of slavery as shall make that institution perform its full share of the national de-fense, and from an element of weakness convert it into one of strength. This law met not ouly with that strong opposition incident and natural to violent resistance, but the discussion indulged in after its necessity was established and its passage cer-taiu, was calculated, if not designed, to defeat its operation and render it fruitless. We hope that the patrlotic slaveholders will not, by indifference or care of property, permit the law to prove of no value; but that they will conscientiously set to work to induce their slaves to volunteer, and send forthwith to the army their quota of slaves. Many of the best officers are anxious to obtain command of negro regiments, and many of the veteran regiments are willing to receive negro commands. Gen willing to receive negro companies, Gen. Lee has urged the measure, Congress has passed the act; the success or failure rests with the people. THE FAMILIES OF UNION REFUGEES TO BE SENT NORTH FROM RICHMOND. [From the Richmond Examiner, March 21] There are hundreds of females and There are hundreds of females and children in Richmond, who, temporarily deserted by fathers, husbands, and brothers, would hail with joy an opportunity to follow them North. We hope this opportunity will soou be afforded them. The supply of provisions in Richmoud is now limited, and it is absolutely necessary that no month remain here to be fed which can be removed and fed elsewhere. Mr. Welker removed and fed elsewhere. Mr. Walker recently said, in the city council, that "Ho had understood that there were now in the city between five and six thousand women and children whose husbands, fathers, and natural protectors had gone off to the Yaukees and left them here a burthen upon the city. It was imperatively demanded at this time, when the city was taxed to its utmost o support the families of our soldiers and its other deserving poor, that this class should be removed from the city, if possible, and sent North to follow the fortunes of their kindred, and thus lessen the drain upon the city supplies."

THE SOUTH SUFFERING FROM A DEPRESSION

(From the Montgomery Mail.)

Men of thought—men of speech—men of writing—men of action—all men who have their country's interest at stake, owe it to that country to combat this disease of depression which is laying hold on the country and snapping the vitals of its power both at home and in the army.

FREEDOM OFFERED TO SLAVES AS A RECRUIT-

ING BOUNTY.

[From the Richmond Scattinel, March 21.]

The recruiting of negro troops is receiving a gratifying support and encouragement from patriotic citizens. A letter before us, from a public spirited citizen of Southside Virginia, says he has fifty ablebodied slaves, of whom he desires to present half at once to the service, gratis, provided he is allowed to secure them in their freedom.

Another gentleman, a refugce from Fauquier county, desires to purchase ten slaves who are willing to enter the army, to whom he will present their freedom on that condition. We trust there will be a general and speedy emulation of these liberal examples, for it is obviously important that what is to be done should be done quickly, the campaign being already afoot.

UNANIMITY PREVAILING ALL OVER THE SOUTH.

[From the Canton (Miss.) Citizen.]

All over the Confederacy we hear of largely attended and enthusiastic public meetings being held, where the stern resolve—
"No submission—no reconstruction—no subjugation—independence or death"—is the characteristic feature. Perfect unan-imit) prevails everywhere. On the lst inst. in public meeting of this character was held in this place, when a series of the right sort of resolutions was unanimously adopted, resolutions of unshaken confidence in God's Providence and the justice of our cause, and the meeting was addressed by Judge A. Jl. Handy, Dr. W. F. Camp, Captain Franklin Smith and General T. C. Tupper. The restoration of General Joseph E. Johnston was especially urged. A SPECIMEN OF SOUTHERN UNANIMITY. The following is the resolution offered by Hon. Wm. Yerger, of Hinds county, which elicited such a lively discussion: Resolved, by the State of Mississippi, That the laws proposed in the Congress of the Confederate States to employ, for the use of the government, all the cotton and tobacco belonging to the people, and to conscribe and to arm slaves, and place them in the army, with a promise of emancipation upon condition of loyal service, are inexpedient, impolitic and unconstitutional; and if passed will tend to invest confiders in the ent, impolitic and unconstitutional; and if passed will tend to impair confidence in the government, and establish a precedent dan-gerous to the rights and liberties of the peo-ple of these States."

ANOTHER SPECIMEN OF THE SAME SORT.

The telegraph yesterday announced that Georgia is goin2 to operate against the government in arming negroes. We guess the negroes will go into the service regardless of the Georgia legislature. This fight must be won, and the slaves must be used in it when necessary. A CARD FROM R. M. T. HUNTER. A report seems to have obtained currency to the effect that I am in favor of a reconstruction of the old Union, and as this rumor is not only injurious to myself, but may be, perhaps, hurtful to the country, I take this occasion to say that it is entirely roneous.

There is, perhaps, no person in the Confederacy to whose feelings and interests such an event would be more repugnant than to mine. I have always held that we ought to maintain the struggle for independence so long as there is hope of success.

The General-in-Chief and the President of starvation

the Confederate States, as the highest military authorities, are best able to understand our resources and prospects. While they have hope in the contest it seems to me that we should deall in our power to strengthen. we should do all in our power to strengthen their hands; but, after all, it is in a sense of the justice of their cause that the hearts of our people should be confirmed; and it is to the Chief Ruler of the Universe that they should look for aid in the mighty struggle in which they are any and. in which they are engaged. Noel Rashleigh's Wedding.

It would have been difficult for Gertrude to answer that. And it seemed useless to try to rouse herself from these musings, since there was the second that the second the second that the second since there was nothing at all, that she knew of, for her to do.
She had got tired of those long, rambling walks which had been rather pleasant when first Noel began to turn towards that ugly door and leave her to herself; besides t was not the season for them.

What could she do? Something must be wrong in herself; what was it?

Mrs. Rashlelgh drew a stool to the window and took a piece of work from her work table. She was going to be good and useful. But, alas! she could have found few better misery accelerators than the needle. There were so many associations condle. There were so many associations con nected with it; so many associations connected with it; so many of Aunt Jean's dry remarks as to her nlece's long stitches and short progress. The needle was very bright at first, but it grew dim; she could not see it at all: then it split into a dozen needles. And she threw down the work and set herself to think we know as yet nothing about it.

It seemed to have been a series of false or unfortunate steps, from which those neigh-bors whom she was so anxious to coneiliate irew, without of course meaning to be cruel ruel conclusions.
She remembered her first Sunday at church, where everything was so different from what she had been accustomed to, that, but for the novelty, it would have made her niserable at once

The better part of the congregation came in as they would have entered a concert room, or any other place of public entertainment; speaking over the seats to their friends, some even shaking hands, and then triends, some even shaking indick, and then taking a deliberate survey of all those who had been previously seated, before they setled themselves for the performance (sic.) The word must be excused; it was one which occurred with an almost hysterical affection of remorse to the bride herself, who sat in a shady corner of her ugly square pew, shrinking from all those eyes which were turned so mercilessly upon her Then came those lower in the social scale and they strolled in by twos and threes, and took their places stolidly with open mouths and staring eyes, as though they nouths and staring eyes, as though they to take place, but whatever it might be, they were not to be shaken from their leavy blankness of indifference.

Moreover, so that the arrivals were over before the sermon began, it did not seem to matter much about the other parts of the service; and the constant disturbance of those clanking iron heeled country boots-in rustic parlance donkey-shod-and the noavy, swaying gait which seemed to bring each foot down with the whole weight of the body above it, all had a perfectly novel and bewildering effect upon Mrs. Rashleigh. Also, it was ner unhappy fate to be musical; and the dreadfully ornate chants and long dreary hymns, all in that inimitable nasal twang of Sunday school children, which must be heard to be appreciated, tried her sorely.

which must be heard to be appreciated, tried her sorely.

During the sermon some one snored very audibly behind her, and taking courage to glance round, a vision of open mouths and closed eyes caused her to turn again quickly and keep close in her corner. The wonder was that Noel sat so gravely composed and tranquil ather side; but then he was used to it.

Her comments on the subject afterwards struck him as so novel and amusing that he encouraged them; and here again fortune was surely juinical to Mrs. Rashleigh. For after her appearance at church, the little village world began to call upon her. It was very awful; worse a great deal than she had expected.

The visitors, already prejudiced, were so ble, that Gertrude begun to think society in the country must be a very starched affair indeed, and to reflect with dismay upon her former ideas of the cordial wavin which she was to receive her neighbors' advances. There did not seem to be any advances to receive. Mrs. Rashleigh, young, inexperieuced, and fearful of not plensing, got nervous in the awful pauses, and rushed madly into a subject which she thought must surely be common ground. The necessity of improvement in the church music, and the dreary way in which the service conducted.

Unhappy blindness that seized her! Why could she not see the village crest erecting tself; growing red and defiant; rising higher and higher against her? So, that was the way in which the lady intended to commence her leadership! She was going to reform the church services, and the vicar of course; and perhaps she would tune the organ and "lead" the singing. Really, the parish had not seen before how very faulty it was there was hore for it had not seen before how there was hore for it had not seen before how were faulty. that it of seen before now very multy it was; there was hope for it, however, now that it possessed a Mrs. Nocl Rashleigh! It would soon improve. A child like that 10 come and preach, indeed! As if it was not bad enough that sho had angled for and angled the best worth in the best in the best within the left.

caught the best match in the parish; and now she, an interloper, a conceited school-girl, must set up her opinion about the services, which were not good enough for And she had actually laughed at the organist, and called him a "country practitioner!"

Of course it was easy to make use of low wit. Anything could be turned into ridicule—except, of course, Mrs. Rashleigh. Also she had given it as her impression that many of the poorer people seemed to go to church more for the actual change and variety the formula. change and variety than from any love for the service itself.

"Her Impression!"

There is absolutely no word to express the intense contempt with which "her im pression!" was flung at the unfortunate young lady, from all parts of the parish, ill it became a household word, and small ladies and gentlemen used it in their nursery quarrels to extinguish a belligerent

Mrs. Rashlelgh of course did not know what she had done; she only knew that she was wofully disappointed in these neighbors, from whose companionship she had hoped so much. Their bearing and conversation when she did happen to meet them gave her some vague uneasy idea of fening, and roused more than once the angry color to her face, and something like defi-ance in her eye. They were either very disngreeable people, or else something was wrong in herself. At any rate, their calls must be returned, and perhaps they would be different by-and-by. But by this time Noel Rashleigh's hollday-making was over, and he had begun to busy himself again with his old occupations, and leave his wife to herself. She could not go alone to visit these people, even if it were proper she should do so. In the boldness of this propriety she had once taken her husband by storm, and haveigled her into accompanying her ways. had once taken her husband by storm, and inveigled her into accompanying her upon one of these visits of ceremony. If she could have heard the sigh with which he shut himself up in his study on his return, she might have known how hopeless it would be to try again. She did not know it, however; nevertheless it wan not without a little misgiving that she ventured to knock at that door which some instinct warned her was intended to shut her huswarned her was intended to shut her hus-band from the outer world, and to be re-spected accordingly. Her knock produced no result, and she turned the handle and said gently, "Noel!"

Not to this either did she get any answer. The door yielded to her hand, and she went in. She had a confused perception of some pungent odor in the room; of incomprehensible vessels and instruments lying about; of wonderful dusty volumes, on one of which she put her hand absently; and of her husband, absorbed and inaccessible, never even turning to be a support of the state of th absorbed and lnacing to look at her. News of the Day.

It is perhaps too soon to mention what we have known from private information for several days, that General Wilson has left the Tennessee river with four divisions of cavalry. The telegraph man is not correct in saying that Gen. Hatch's veteran 5th division is one of them. This, perhaps the best division of cavalry in the service, has the difficult task assigned it to keep For-rest out of Tennessee—for those who ex-pect Wilson to hunt for Forrest are out of band; but they perhaps have forgotten that Wilson is Sherman's chief of cavalry, and not Canby's. Besides, Stoneman is already in southwest Virginia, and Stanly with the 4th corps is not far behind.

General Grant has issued an order, congratulating the army of the Potomae on their success in the battle of the 25th. He biames that brigade which held Fort Sted-

Many failures are announced from England. Whether this has anything to do with speculatious in the confederate loan is not stated. The drafts of the rebel government are getting extensively dishonored, at any rate; and there's a very old proverb which avers that "the burnt child dreads the fire."

A substitute for gunpowder, consisting of tannic gallic acid, or the resin of commerce, tannic gallic acid, or the resin of commerce, and chlorate or nitrate of potash has been discovered. It is said to be of three times the explosive force of common gunpowder, and one-half cheaper, and to leave uo residuum when exploded, to foul the gun. By separating its constituent parts, it can be kent in magazines with perfect safety. The Emperor of the Freuch has, it is said,

The marriage of Barou Ferdinaud de tothschild with Miss de Rothschild will take place early in June, A very brilliant comet was observed in the northwest, from on board the ship White Swallow of Boston (when probably off Cape of Good Hope), from January 20 to February 5. As the comet must then have had a high northern declination, it was, of course, invisible to us. A cavalry soldier named Cummings shot a fellow at Bladensburg, Md., the other day for hurrahing for Jeff. Davis, and then quietly mounted his horse, rode two miles to a fort, and gave himself up for trial.

The rigor of the past winter in Russia daily more intense. The celebrated fair which lasts a fortnight, and the meeting of the laud owners of the provinces of Volhynia, Podoiia and the Ukraine, now taking place, are completely wanting in animation first, because specie is rare, and next, because long journeys are almost impossible in consequence of the state of the roads from the deep snow. The thermometer marks 26 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit; for the last sixty years it has not fallen so low. From the received low. From the scarcity of coin, travelers at the end of each stage are obliged to receive from the postmaster paper money with his signature, which is unturally current only in a limited district.

The Duke de Moruy, who died a few days since in Paris, was the half-brother of the Emperor Napoleon, a sou of Queen Hortense. The London News says of him, "that he was not only the nearest to the Emperor by the accident of birth, but with the page of the property and most trusted in full—PHILIP TOMPPERT, FOR MAYOR, and WM. T. CASSELL, FOR STREET INSPECTOR. The names of the other offices are left blank.

We are informed that Wm. T. Cassell was out doubt, the nearest and most trusted in counsel, as he was probably the most sagacious and skillful of his advisers."

A letter from Paris, speaking of the death of the Duke de Morny, says: "The death charged with treasonable practices at that of the Duke de Morny, says: "The death of no other man, excepting that of the Prince Imperial, by this very decease heir less apparent than two weeks ago, the death of no one of the 35,000,000 human ereatures of France, could leave its Emperor so sad and lone a man. And just on that account, perhaps, the gravity of his ioss will be lightened. For the moment, at least, the nationally characteristic quick sympathy and ready courtesy of the French will induce even the political opposition to more kindly entreat the Emperor in view of his sore affliction."

Charged with treasonable practices at that time. Mr. Tomppert is evidently bidding largely for the rebel vote of the city, and he will get it.

European democracy finds all its sympathy on this side the water in this party. These are the friends you have to depend ou now and hereafter. Note this single fact : there are three Union members of the State Legisla-ture from this city; two of them are foreignborn-one a Scotchman, the other a German. They are men who cannot fail to command respect from all parties, and to reflect it npon their national kin in our midst. Can this be said of your candidate for Mayor?

> W. G. Reasor the Candidate for City Attorney.

The secession friends of this gentleman are boasting loudly that they are certain of his election on Saturday next. They claim especially the rebel vote, and the vote that centers in the neighborhood of Lafavette street. These influences the friends of Mr other Reasor claim to be a unit in his support, and they will poli a very large vote. We have uo present knowledge of the correctness of The citizens think it is the invention of these statements, but we have no doubt of the General commanding at Mobile to fire their substantial truth. Election day is the city when it is attacked. It is estimated generally a high carnival with the roundthat 20,000 bales of cottou are piled up at the Ohio and Mobile station, ready to be sent away in case of attack. Hundreds of bales have been sent away during the past two months, many owners sending theirs away when so many troops left Mobile for South Reasor may find it to his interest to eurry favor with these parties, and then again he may not. It seems that Fort Fisher fell because the guns on its land face were too light to cope with iron-clad vessels; because its two ablest leading officers were wounded at the outset, and because its garrison was inexperienced, incoherent and loosely coupled, and finally because the Confederates in 1865 do not fight with the vigor and clan of 1862 and 1863,

Meeting of Tobacco Dealers.

At a meeting of the tobacco dealers of Louisville, Ky held at the Ninth Street Tobacco Warehouse, Ma ch 14. 1865, the following resolutious were adopted and ordere: to be published in each of the city papers:

Resolved, By the tobacco dealers of the city of Louis ville, that hereafter the names of the owners or sellers of

"nested" or false packed hogsheads of tobacco offered in this market for sale shall be published in the city papers, and that a "black list" be kept at the different ware houses for the purpose of posting such uames.

2. Besolved, That the present Committee appointed for a member of the "Sons of Liberty," and a member of the "Sons of Liberty," and selection. The names of the other offices be anthorized to have such usmes published, and to call on the dealers to assist in defraying expense of same.

3. Resolved. That the present Coumittee appointed for the purpose of tracing "nested" or false packed tobacco be anthorized to have such usmes published, and to call on the dealers to assist in defraying expense of same. JAMES T. EDMUNDS, Chairman M. B. NASH, Secretary.

SUPPOSED GUERRILLA.-A man named Williams, who was sent north of the Ohio from Nashville, by order of Gen. Thomas, a week or so ago, was brought to the city yesterday morning, having been arrested at Milton, Ky., opposite to Madison, Ind. Williams tried to induce a young man named Cusack, of Madison, whom he had fallen in with, to go to Keutueky and join a guerrilla band. Cusaek, with the view to draw the fellow out, agreed to go with him, and accompanied him over the river. He there found means to communicate with Captain Trench, a Government detective at Madison, informing him of the character of the man, and Trench at once went over the river and arrested Williams. Trench and Cusaek brought him to the city, and he is now in the Military Prison. Williams told Cusaek that they could pick up a couple of horses after getting into Kentucky, and soon join a guerrilla band, about which he seemed to know a great deal.

While coming down on the boat Williams attempted to jump over board, but was prevented by one of the men who brought him to the city. He was hand-cuffed, and had he succeeded in his desperate purpose to jump into the river, he would undoubtedly have drowned.

TAKEN THE OATH .- We are informed, says the Evansville Journal of Tuesday, that the notorious Capt. Steele, whose hands and very clothes are reeking with the blood of Union men, murdered and butchered by himself and his gang of robbers, came into Henderson on Sunday, and was permitted to take the oath of amnesty. He afterward brought in his entire gang, who did likewise.

What a commentary on the howlings by the conservative press of the country about the tyranny of the Government this is, and how justice must blush with very shame that her demands are thus outraged.

For years these men have been robbing, murdering and plundering honest and loval men, and seeking by every means in their power to destroy the Government that now shows them such unheard-of clemency.

What think you, friends, of the gallant soldier whom Steele so mercilessly killed upon the steamboat as he was being brought up the river a prisoner? That was a foul, implous nurder, for which there should be no forgiveness.

We suppose Steele can now strut the streets of Evansville, and receive panegyrics from a liberal and independent press, as do other weil known and inalignant traitors. Justice will yet reach these men. It may be that their cup of iniquity is not yet full, but they will yet be made to drink it to its very dregs.

FIGHT WITH JESSE'S GUERRI LAS,-We learn that Col. Buckley's command had a sharp fight a few days ago with a party of Jesse's guerrillas, led by the notorions Captain Corbin, formerly of Boone county. The engagement took place in Owen county, Ky., about eleven miles south of Owenton Three of the guerrillas, including their leader, were killed, and three mortally wounded. Corbin fought with great desperation, firing six shots after he was mortally wounded. Several of the Federal soldiers were slightly wounded, but none killed. Our informant states that there are several hundred guerrillas under the command of Jesse, in Gallatin and Owen counties, and they express a determination to remain there until after the draft.

S. B. Howe's GREAT CIRCUS.-The unpleasant weather of yesterday did not interfere with the attendance at this circus. as a large crowd conclusively proved. The performances, as usual, were heartily applauded throughout. This morning the last graud parade takes place at 11 o'clock, All those who witnessed it before agree in saving that it is the best and costliest display ever witnessed here. The great show remains here only the rest of this week. Then the Arabs and the rest of the attractions pitch their tent in some other place.

SHOULD COME DOWN .- Some of our dealers are very reluctant to follow the tendeney of gold in the prices asked for their goods. This is very natural. They desire to get as high prices as possible, for most of their present stocks were purchased at high prices. They forget that their losses now are fully compensated by a large increase of profit on the stock on hand when gold went up, taking the value of their goods with it, when they were busy in REGULAR MIDNIGHT REPORT.

Army of the Potomac.

Our Loss on the 25th -- Duth Corps. Washington, March 29.—Information from City Point yesterday says the losses in the 9th corps are much larger than heretofore reported. The 1st division have in hospital 160 wounded, and 30 are known to have been killed. In the 3d division hospital there are 166 wounded and about 120 were killed. The losses in the 2d division were not known, but in their hospital they

Gen. Grant's Order of Congratulation. A general order was issued to the army

The enemy with a temerity for which he has pald dearly, too dearly, massed his forces and succeeded, through the reprehensible want of vigilance of the 3d brigade 9th corps, in breaking through their lines, eapturing Ft. Steadman, and batteries Nos. 9, 10, and 11.

By uight the enemy was driven from his intrenched picket line, and all his efforts to recover the same, which were partially determined and persistent ou the 2d corps' front, were resisted and repulsed with heavy slaughter, leaving with the 6th corps over 400 prisoners, and with the 2d eorps two battle flags and over 300 prisoners.

The troops of the 6th corps reported by Maj, Gen. Wright as engaged in these operations, were Getty's division, Keet's brigade, Seymour's division, and Hamblin's and Edward's brigades of Wheaton's division. Of the troops belonging to the 2d corps, Maj. Gen. Humphreys mentions Miles' and Mott's divisions, and Smythe's Miles' and Mott's divisions, and Shiyuka brigade of Hay's division, who were sup-ported by the 5th corps. The result of the day was the thorough defeat of the enemy's plans, the capture of his strongly entrenehed picket line under artillery fire of his works, and the capture of ten battle flags and 2.800

It is a result on which the Lieutenant Commanding heartily congratulates the army. The order says: Two lessons can be learned from these operations. One, that no fortified position, however strong, will protect an army from intrepid and audacious foes unless vigilantly guarded; the other, that no disaster or misfortune is irreparable where steadiness and bravery are displayed in the determination to recover what is lost and to promptly assume the of-

How the Rebels Dont Fight. NEW YORK, March 29.—The Tribune's special says: Nine officers were wounded in the fight of Saturday in front of Petersburg. The affair, though partaking of the nature of a general battle, was in reality nothing more than an extended skirmish; owing to the desperate condition and unwillingness of the rebels to fight. How the Rebeis Tell the Story. WASHINGTON, March 29 .- The Richmond Enquirer of the 25th inst, has a special dispatch dated Petersburg, March 25th, which says Gens. Bushrod Johnson and Gordon tormed the enemy's breastworks on our left this morning and drove the enemy one mile, capturing his works and 500 prisoners, including Gen. McLaughlin and other officers. The fight was terrific, and the loss on both sides heavy.

Gen. Terry was badly wounded. Washington, March 29.—All letters mailed in the United States for the coast of Mexico, embraeing the States of Sinaloa, and Lower California, should be endorsed via San Francisco, as letters for these States by the way of San Francisco reach their destination much earlier than by other routes.

The Draft to Proceed. The Commercial's Washington special says that the public impression that the present draft is unnecessary, in view of the impending end of the war, is not shared by men in authority here. Although the military situation is eminently favorable, there is no intelligent belief that we shall be en abled to relax our efforts or reduce our ar mies for at least a year to come. The full number of men called for by the President will undoubtedly be required and are even now needed in the field.

A Bad Rumor. Gen. Grant will modify the cotton trade prohibition. The pressure on the authorities in reference to it has been immense.

The 1st division is commanded by Gen. McCook, 2d by Gen. Terry, 4th by Gen. Upton, and 5th by Gen. Hatch. This expedition has been fitted out at an expense almost fabulous, and its operations are reported to be of a most important character.

Members of the School Board seem to have paid little attention to them-parents still less; and in eonsequence children fail to receive the benefits they ought to receive, and which an intelligent educational system, with no increased expenditure of money, would se-cure to them. Parents have done their cure to them. Parents have done their children a great wrong in the disregard they have paid to this matter. I will not say what wrong in my opinion has been inflieted by the gentlemen composing the School Board. The old contestants for the supremacy in Northern Georgia oppose each other again, but under far different circumstances. Then, General Johnston had one of the finest armies on the continent, nearly equal in number to General Sherman's. OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE UNION PRESS, WEDNESDAY EVENING, March 29, 1865. The market was rather quiet to-day in pretty much all departments, with, however, a better feeling for groce-ries and provisions, the stock of which, particularly the latter, are rather light. The New York market has un-dergone an improvement in aimost all the Western pro-ducts, including breadstuffs, provisions, and whisky, which have advanced this week, imparting more firmness here. The sales of whisky, the common or steam, have been wholly of the last season's make, coming under the $1 50 tax. There is very little being manufactured under the last tax of $2 per gallon, and the stocks are gradually getting smaller, and we note a slight advance in the Eastern marts, and a corresponding advance here. The supplies of produce, excepting potatoes, have been com-paratively light. Good Northern potatoes have been in stoady demand, for seed as well as for consumers, and prices were fully sustained. Now, however, with less de mand and increasing receipts, prices are easier, with sale resterday and to-day of 300 bbis selected Northern and Nesharoz, all at $5. The weather to-day has been unfavorable for out-door business, a light, drizzling rain falling at intervals, and the streets are very muddy. The sons find they have a coid, then they have frequent at tacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of tempera-ture. In this condition, the ness may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterward thick and adhesive As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or conghed off. The se-cretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smeli is essened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place. Another commou and important symptom of Catarrhis that the person is obliged to clear his throat lu the mornlog of a thick or silmy mucens, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this takes place the person nav be sure that his disease is ou its way to the lungs, and should less no time in arresting it.

The above are but few of the many Catarrhal symploms.
